This is a technique-based workshop that is sure to get your creative juices flowing for a plethora of projects using these products limited only by your imagination.

The album itself is great to hold tons of photos from your summer trip to the zoo or (if your family is anything like mine) photos from a family reunion or simply a day at home!

In this class you'll learn a variety of techniques for crafting mini books – from creating pocket-fold pages to hide and tuck additional photos and journaling, to using the Cinch Binding System to hold it all together. A word of caution though ... mini books can become extremely addicting!
